

Dear Colleagues,

Even though coronavirus scenarios change daily, for the moment at least the University of Crete is not affected. Advice and guidelines sent by the Greek National Health Agency, as well as national and local authorities is closely followed.

A Crisis Management Unit has been set up and an emergency plan is available if necessary. The UOC medical team is ready to take care of students and staff who have questions or show symptoms of infection. Currently, all academic activities (classes, conferences, meetings) take place normally; The University Library in both Campuses and all study rooms are open to all.

Our students and staff have been asked to limit international travelling to the absolute necessary and according to the instructions of our Authorities all staff members and students are kept continuously up to date.

All incoming students are encouraged to contact the International Relations Department staff, in Rethymnon and Heraklion Campuses, should they have any questions.

We thank you for taking care of our outgoing students and please rest assured that the safety and well-being of our students and staff remains our top priority.

Please find below the guidelines provided by the Hellenic National Public Health Organization (HNPHO) regarding the novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV)
<https://eody.gov.gr/covid-19-guidelines-on-home-isolation-of-suspect-cases/>
<https://eody.gov.gr/novel-coronavirus-covid-19-advice-for-travellers/> and the reports provided by the World Health Organization (WHO) <https://www.who.int/emergencies/diseases/novel-coronavirus-2019/situation-reports/>

You are kindly requested to read them carefully and strictly follow the instructions provided.

Thank you very much for your attention,

With kind regards,

The International Relations Department of the University of Crete