

The University of Crete

partner in the first International Mobility Consortium of the Erasmus program in Greece (KA 107), coordinated by the University of Piraeus

The University of Crete participates as a partner since 2019 in the first International Mobility Consortium of the Erasmus program in Greece (KA 107), coordinated by the University of Piraeus. Other partners are the National Technical University of Athens, Panteion University and Democritus University of Thrace.

The aim of the program is the mobility of students for studies or internships and the mobility of staff of the Institutions for teaching or training, to and from the partner countries of the Consortium.

1. Program 2019-2021

The University of Piraeus has already signed agreements with Universities in China, Kenya, Uganda, Russia and Israel for various scientific fields.

2. Program 2020 - 2022

The University of Piraeus has already signed agreements with Universities in Albania, Armenia, China, Egypt, Israel, Kenya, Kazakhstan, Russia and Morocco.

Despite the uncertainty of the pandemic situation, there are places offered for a small number of students and staff of our Institution as well as for the reception of a relatively small number of students (mainly for traineeship) and staff from partner countries of the Consortium outside Europe, for training and teaching.

Please see the announcements regarding the mobility of students and staff of the UoC to partner countries.
