

Nena Galanidou

Professor in Prehistoric Archaeology, Department of History and Archaeology, UoC

Director of the Postgraduate Studies Program Ancient Mediterranean World – History and Archaeology

E-mail: galanidou@uoc.gr

Office No.: 46, Department of History and Archaeology

Telephone: 28310-77343

<https://www.history-archaeology.uoc.gr/en/the-department/research-and-teaching-staff-2/nena-galanidou/?lang=en>

Nena Galanidou holds a BA in History and Archaeology from the University of Crete (1988), an MSc in Archaeological Computing from Southampton University (1989) and a PhD in Palaeolithic Archaeology from the University of Cambridge (1996). She worked in the Information Technology Department of the Benaki Museum, Athens (1989-1990). Between 1996 and 1999 as a stipendiary research fellow of Clare Hall, Cambridge, she taught undergraduate courses in Palaeolithic and Mesolithic Archaeology and Quantitative Methods in Archaeology. Since 2000 she has been teaching Prehistoric Archaeology at the University of Crete. She has conducted fieldwork in Greece, Croatia and Israel and participated in international projects studying the Palaeolithic and Mesolithic of SE Europe. Her main research interests are: Palaeolithic, Mesolithic, Neolithic Archaeology; Ethnoarchaeology; Archaeological History and Method; Public Archaeology. She is the author of 'Home is where the hearth is': the spatial organisation of the Upper Palaeolithic rockshelter occupations at Klithi and Kastritsa in Northwest Greece, Oxford: British Archaeological Reports International Series 687, 1997.